

Pam Dignum

After a teaching career in both primary and secondary schools, both State and independent, I moved to West Sussex and live in Chichester. I play an active voluntary part in the education department of the cathedral, running arts-based workshops, and also work as a cathedral guide. I am a local primary school governor (Vice-Chairman) and a contributor to the Chichester Society Newsletter. I am married and have two grown-up daughters and six grandchildren. I am very interested in quality of life issues and good facilities for both young and old.

Barbara Rees

I live in Chichester and my family has lived in this area for as long as I can remember. I am a retired community pharmacist with two grown-up children. I work as a volunteer at St. Richard's Hospital as a member of the Red Cross team, and also help to raise funds for St. Wilfrid's Hospice.

We must not let our strong and vibrant St. Richard's Hospital be down-graded in any way. Good local medical care is vital to all of us, and must be easily accessible and user-friendly. With my pharmacist background I am particularly concerned with public health issues and, in particular, the dangers to young and old alike of growing traffic pollution.

Estelle Strong

I have enjoyed living in Chichester for the past 50 years and have seen the huge changes that the City has gone through. I have played an active part in City affairs over that time, including the New Park Centre, the Chichester Society and other organisations. I have also served previously as a Chichester District Councillor.

My experience of the City and its development leads me to believe that car parking, already often difficult, is going to be an increasing problem both for residents, commuters and visitors alike.

Vote for us and so send a clear message to the Labour Government: Save St. Richard's Hospital and all its services.
