Nigel Galloway (01243 780652 or Nigel.Galloway06@btinternet.com)

I have lived in the Chichester South ward for eight years and worked in the city since 1979. I am a former newspaper reporter specialising in local government. Until I retired last year, I worked for WSCC communications department, so have extensive experience of how councils work and how to get things done on your behalf. There are many development pressures facing Chichester and I want to help ensure that we balance economic and housing needs with the very special character of the area. I believe a vibrant shopping centre and tourism are vital to local employment. I also believe strong local communities within Chichester South are important. I am married with three children and three grandchildren. Members of my family work at Chichester Nursery School, Chichester College and the University of Chichester so I have developed interests in education at all levels. My interests include reading, walking, cycling and sport.

Pam Dignum (01243 538585 or pam.dignum@btinternet.com)

As a City and District councillor I have represented Chichester South for 8 years, enjoying meeting many residents and helping with their problems (like planning applications, noisy street behaviour, parking, tree size), and taking part in important decision-making. On Overview and Scrutiny Committee I have questioned the progress of local projects, how money is spent, how services have performed; for instance, how are apprenticeships and training helping our young people? Improving the Canal Basin area has been important; so has the welfare of older people. I represent the District on the County's Health and Adult Social Care committee, concerned with the quality of provision in community care and in hospital, stroke treatment, ambulance times, dementia. Residents groups have kept me informed on local issues. A retired teacher, I continue as a Cathedral guide. Married with 2 daughters and 6 grandchildren, I love Chichester and enjoy being involved in its problems and successes.

Len Macey (01243 786297 or lenmacey1@talktalk.net)

I was born in Chichester and went to The Lancastrian Boys' school here. I chose to develop my clothing business, LJ's For Jeans, in Chichester. Over the years I traded from various locations in the City and finally in South Street. Working and living in our city centre over the years has given me the opportunity to observe at close quarters how Chichester developed. It is vital that we all do our best to keep our city beautiful, vibrant and peaceful. I have served for 2 years on the City Council and with that experience feel confident to seek the greater responsibilities of a District Councillor. Having recently sold my business I now have the time to apply my 'hands on' business experience to represent South Ward as a District Councillor and to give something back to the community in the form of public service.

Elections for the City Council using a green ballot paper are also being held on May 7th.
